

Independent Office,
Dec. 13, 1863.

Dear Garrison,

A note from Wendell informs me that you will come to New York next Friday, and that he has advised you to spend that night with us, instead of trying to make your way to Orange at so late an hour. I write to say that the hope of seeing you at our house gives pleasure not only to Mrs. Johnson and myself, but to our whole family. I will try to meet you at the depot, but if I am detained, you will find our house without difficulty. It was formerly No. 90, but is now No. 128 East 12th street - the street having been renumbered. Come down in a 4th Avenue car, and our house is on the South side of the street (going East), 2d door below the church.

Yours, truly,

Oliver Johnson.
